

New Mexico Climate Master™ Program

Make a BIG Impact with a Light Footprint

Learn How to Reduce Your Carbon Footprint &
Volunteer to Train Others to Do the Same

The New Mexico Environment Department is offering an

11 week series of FREE classes

Fall 2011, September 13 - November 22

Santa Fe, NM

Course participants are provided 30 hours of training, and in return they provide 30 hours of volunteer service.

Class topics include:

Climate Change • Home Energy • Transportation
Water • Renewable Energy • Yards • Consumption & Waste
Food • Sustainable Behavior • Communication

The Fall 2011 Climate Master Class will meet:

Tuesdays, September 13 - November 22, 9:30 - 12:00am & one local field trip
Stewart Udall Building, 725 Camino Lejo, Santa Fe, New Mexico

Registration:

Class is limited to 25. Registration is required. See website for application.
Confirmation of successful registration will be sent by email or phone.

For more information contact:

Michael Schneider
505-476-4323
mike.schneider@state.nm.us

<http://www.nmenv.state.nm.us/aqb/NewMexicoClimateMasters.htm>