EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The New Mexico Fire Planning Task Force (NM-FPTF) was created by the 2003 New Mexico Legislature to identify Wildland Urban Interface (WUI) areas most vulnerable to danger from wildland fires in the State of New Mexico and to develop standards for building codes and ordinances that would reduce the threat of wildland fires to those communities.

WUI Codes

The NM-FPTF has adopted the International Code Councils' Wildland Urban Interface Code. New Mexico counties and communities are encouraged to adopt these codes and ordinances to further reduce the threat of wildland fires to their communities.

CWPP

The NM-FPTF reviews new or updated Community Wildfire Protection Plans (CWPP) each year and approves those that meet all of the criteria set forth by the Healthy Forest Restoration Act. Completed and approved Community Wildfire Protection Plans are placed on the Forestry Division website www.nmforestry.com within the Fire Management section. Once there click on the New Mexico Fire Plan, then look to the right top corner and click on CWPP.

http://www.emnrd.state.nm.us/FD/FireMgt/cwpps.htm

Each CWPP contains a list of the communities at risk from wildfire. These lists are compiled to create the New Mexico Communities at Risk list, see Table 2. Communities may be added or deleted or the community wildfire risk rating changed with the development of a new CWPP or with the revision of an older CWPP. The NM-FPTF publishes any updates and revisions to the list and provides a finalized report to the Governor and New Mexico legislature by December 15 of each year.

History (CPZ to CWPP)

In 2003, the state was divided into 18 Community Protection Zones (CPZ) see Appendix 3, Community Protection Zone Map. Inside these zones were 234 communities that were evaluated on their risk from wildland fire. Using standard hazard risk rating methodology these communities were rated as high, medium or low risk. Since then, communities have been encouraged to develop a Community Wildfire Protection Plan (CWPP). Almost all of the communities initially listed in the CPZ have been reevaluated by a CWPP. In 2009 we will have only a handful of areas not covered by a CWPP. A map showing the statewide status of the CWPP progress is in Appendix 1.

Value of a CWPP

A CWPP includes ways a community could reduce structural ignitability, identifies areas that need vegetative fuels removed to reduce risk and severity of wildfires, and evaluates a communities' fire fighting capacity. This planning process helps a community come together by identifying their risk to fire, their community values, and their important infrastructure. These concerns are factored together to create a prioritized list of areas to be treated and the potential treatment options. The CWPP provides communities with the opportunity to influence where and how federal agencies implement fuel reduction projects on federal lands and how federal funds are distributed for projects on non-federal lands. A CWPP is a requirement to many grants and funding opportunities. The communities listed annually in this publication will replace the January 2001 Federal Register listing for communities at risk. The information will be forwarded to federal cooperators for their use and will reside on New Mexico State Forestry's website www.nmforestry.com.

It should be noted that the communities listed within the CWPPs are by no means a complete list of areas at risk from wildland fire. Each CWPP has made a concerted effort to list all the communities within their plan's boundary. The Communities at Risk subcommittee recognizes that some communities in the state of New Mexico are not currently listed in a CWPP, see Table 4. The NM-FPTF encourages all communities within New Mexico to be in a CWPP.

How do I get started?

A CWPP can take a variety of forms based on the publication "Preparing a Community Wildfire Protection Plan: A Handbook for Wildland-Urban Interface Communities" available at www.safnet.org. Communities are encouraged to contact their local Forestry Division district office for assistance in developing or revising a CWPP, for information on Wildland Urban Interface Codes and information on fuel hazard reduction programs.

2008 Accomplishments

Twenty-one new CWPPs were presented to the Communities at Risk subgroup for approval by the NM-FPTF. Sixteen countywide plans were adopted and five community/regional plans were written and adopted. This totals 51 CWPPs for the state of New Mexico, see Table 1 for a list of plans. Four additional plans are in the development process in 2009.

These 51 CWPPs identify 532 communities at risk from wildland fire. The number of New Mexico Communities at Risk list grew from 300 to 532 for 2008. These communities were added through the development or revision of a CWPP. Of the 532 communities, 266 are listed as high risk, 182 are listed as medium risk and 84 are listed as low risk from wildland fire. This past year, 12 communities risk from wildland fire was elevated to a higher level, while an additional 9 communities lowered their ranking. See Table 2 for a list of Communities at Risk.

The International Code Council held a class on the Wildland Urban Interface Codes with 20 people in attendance. The WUI code planning kit (CD) was given to those in attendance. Another 40 planning kits were distributed in other meetings throughout the state to assist communities and counties in developing and adopting WUI codes.

Requests for fuels reduction projects continue to exceed the available funding. The USDA Forest Service has made funds available for these treatments through the National Fire Plan. The Bureau of Land Management, through an agreement with the New Mexico Association of Counties, has funded both treatments and public outreach and education projects across the state. Local community groups with state and federal partners continue to develop CWPPs, identify fuel hazard reduction projects and treat acres across the state.

Community Wildfire Protection Plan<sup>1</sup> Summary and Checklist

Step One: Convene Decision Makers

 Form a core team made up of representatives from the appropriate local governments, local fire authority, and state agency responsible for forest management.

Step Two: Engage Interested Parties

- Contact and encourage active involvement in plan development from a broad range of interested organizations and stakeholders.
- Identify and engage local representatives of the USFS and BLM.
- Contact and involve other land management agencies as appropriate.

Step Three: Establish a Community Base Map

• Work with partners to establish a baseline map of the community that defines the community's WUI and displays inhabited areas at risk, forested areas that contain critical human infrastructure, and forest areas at risk for large-scale fire disturbance.

Step Four: Identify Problems to Be Addressed

- Work with partners to identify problems to be addressed, including fuel hazards; risk of wildfire occurrence; structural ignitability; local preparedness capability; and location of homes, businesses, essential infrastructure and other community values at risk.
- This "community risk assessment" can be simple or complex depending on the resources available to the community and partners.

Step Five: Establish Community Priorities and Recommendations

- Use the base map and community risk assessment to facilitate a collaborative community discussion that leads to the identification of local priorities for fuel treatment, reducing structural ignitability, and improving fire response capability.
- Clearly indicate whether priority projects are directly related to protection of communities and essential infrastructure or to reducing wildfire risks to other community values.

Step Six: Develop an Action Plan and Assessment Strategy

• Consider developing a detailed implementation strategy to accompany the CWPP, as well as a monitoring plan that will ensure its long-term success.

Step Seven: Complete the Community Wildfire Protection Plan

- Consider the CWPP complete for the year and date stamp the document.
- Communicate the results to the community and partners.
- Collect information to update the plan for revision the following year.

The checklist was modified by the New Mexico Fire Planning Task Force for use in New Mexico.
